

Up To Date \(/programs/uptodate\)

Keeping Your Vote Safe, And Park University Pianist Stands Out In International Competition

By STEVE KRASKE \(/PEOPLE/STEVE-KRASKE\) & COY DUGGER • JUL 25, 2017

Listen
45:57

https://cpa.ds.npr.org/kcur/audio/2017/07/UTD_7-25-2017.mp3

Recent claims from elected officials and investigations into Russian election meddling have some wondering about the security of their vote. Today, we find out what the Kansas City (<https://www.kceb.org/>), Missouri, and Johnson County Kansas (<https://www.jocogov.org/dept/election-office/home>) election boards are doing to protect electronic, paper and absentee ballots. Then, Park University student Kenneth Broberg (<http://cliburn2017.medicivt.com/en/artist/kenneth-broberg>) discusses his performance and success in the prestigious (and grueling) Van Cliburn International Piano Competition.

Kenneth Broberg will perform at the Folly Theater at 4 p.m. on Sunday, September 10. Tickets go on sale Tuesday, August 1. For more information, visit FollyTheater.org (<http://follytheater.org/>).

Kenneth Broberg's piano playing earned him a silver medal in the most recent Van Cliburn International Piano Competition, held in Fort Worth, Texas.

CREDIT RALPH LAUER / THE CLIBURN